"If You Don't Know What Your Rights Are, Then You Don't Have Any"

Don't Be Caught Dead Without A Will

None of us are planning to die today. Yet none of us have a guarantee that we won't. In fact, there are only two guarantees in life: death and taxes. And if you don't have a properly written will in place, the State of Arizona has one for you. Do you think the government has your best intentions in mind? Protect your loved ones and your assets from being taken advantage of in the event you die. It's the greatest gift you will ever leave behind.

Do You Need A Will?

It's a common misconception that only wealthy people or married couples need a will. If you answer "NO" to any of the following questions, you must consider getting a will done.

- Do you want a probate judge to divvy up your assets randomly?
- Do you want a CPS social worker to determine who gets to raise your children?
- Do you want to give the IRS a "blank check" to your estate?
- Do you want animal control to seize your pets?
- Do you want your stepchildren or children from a previous marriage passed over?
- Do you want your adult children to battle your spouse in court?
- Do you want a deadbeat parent to be awarded custody of your children?
- Do you want relatives fighting over any family heirlooms you may have?
- Do you want the State of Arizona to sell your home, your car, and your things?
- Do you want your loved ones to grieve your death in a courtroom?
- Do you want someone you don't know making decisions on your behalf?
- Do you want an estranged sibling or relative to petition the court against your wishes?

Don't leave your loved ones and your assets at the mercy of the government. Don't leave your family with endless red tape and brick walls to deal with while they grieve. I can show you how to get your will prepared and updated every year with a top rated law firm for just pennies a day.
